EFFECTIVE ORAL PRESENTATIONS

JEAN-LUC DOUMONT

May 18, 2023 to June 07, 2023
09:30 to 13:30
Blue Lecture Room

Strong presentation skills are a key to success for researchers, yet many speakers are at a loss to tackle the task. Systematic as they usually are in their work, they go at it intuitively or haphazardly, with much good will but seldom with an effective outcome. This workshop proposes a systematic way to prepare and deliver an oral presentation: it covers structure, slides, and delivery, as well as stage fright.

Dates: 18th of May, from 09:30 - 13:30
7th of June, from 9:30 - 13:30 - Practical session

Target Group: PhD Students, Post-doctoral researchers and Research Engineers Priority will be given to 2nd and 3rd years PhD students
