

Open day at ICFO for Physics and Chemistry teachers

High-school teachers visit ICFO to learn about the latests advances in the field

April 20, 2007

About thirty teachers, members of the Seminar of Physics Professors of Catalonia visited ICFO last Friday, 20th April.

The visit included a conference and lab tours, and aimed at approaching the attendees to cutting-edge science within the field of photonics. This type of initiatives are promoted by the Department of Education of the Government of Catalonia, Direction General for Innovation, that promotes a variety of outreach programs, including a program that addresses the dissemination of scientific progress at high schools.
